BUSH THREAT

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. (AP) -- A LANSING WRITER HAS BEEN INDICTED ON CHARGES OF THREATENING VICE PRESIDENT GEORGE BUSH, AUTHORITIES SAID.

THE GRAND JURY ACTION AGAINST JOHN NORTH WRIGHT CAME THURSDAY. WRIGHT, WHO USED THE PEN NAME OF "DR. KASSALAH" TO WRITE BOOKS ABOUT THE CIA'S ALLEGED ATTEMPTS TO CONTROL HIS MIND, WAS RELEASED LAST WEEK ON A $5,000 BOND.

ACTING U.S. ATTORNEY ROBERT GREENE SAID FEDERAL PSYCHIATRISTS WHO EXAMINED WRIGHT SAID HE WAS COMPETENT TO STAND TRIAL AND REPORTED THAT WRIGHT WAS PARANOID WHEN HE MADE THE ALLEGED THREAT.

WRIGHT WAS ARRESTED AT HIS HOME APRIL 16 AFTER HE ALLEGEDLY TOLD A LANSING POLICEMAN HE WAS BEING BLACKMAILED BY THE CIA. HE SAID HE INTENDED TO KILL THE RESPONSIBLE PARTIES, AND NAMED BUSH.

WRIGHT COULD FACE UP TO FIVE YEARS IN PRISON IF CONVICTED.
